Integrity New Homes Coastal Constructions

ABOUT Ug

At INH Coastal Constructions, our story is built on experience, integrity, and a deep passion for delivering homes that genuinely improve people's lives.

With a trade background in electrical and a career spanning over two decades in construction, Daniel has been immersed in the industry since 2003. From running a successful electrical business with a team of staff, to working on large-scale commercial projects in the education and retail sectors, his experience brings a rare depth of understanding to every build. Since 2020, he has been proudly operating as a licensed builder under the Integrity New Homes banner.

Our focus is on quality, not cutting corners. We partner with clients who appreciate well-crafted homes, high-end finishes, and reliable trades. We're not in the business of building the cheapest homes on the street—we're here to create something lasting, personal, and truly exceptional.

Honesty, integrity, and doing what we say we'll do, these are the values that shape every project we take on. Our drive comes from a simple but powerful goal: to help people turn their ideas, needs and dreams into beautiful, practical homes that enhance their lives. And for us, there's nothing more rewarding than delivering a finished product that goes above and beyond expectations.

With a reputation built on trust and a commitment to excellence, we're here to build more than just houses, we're here to build homes that truly matter.
